THE TRUSIGHT ASSESSMENT

The TruSight Assessment leverages a comprehensive methodology built and continuously updated by industry experts from leading financial institutions to stay ahead of industry and regulatory change.

The foundation of TruSight's assessment methodology is the TruSight Best Practices Questionnaire ("BPQ"): a single, standardized questionnaire created by TruSight's founding banks, and updated in partnership with TruSight's customers, to eliminate redundant assessments across the industry. The TruSight BPQ's 27 diversified control domains are designed to meet the industry's operational and regulatory assessment needs across information and cyber security, privacy, and operational risk.

PRECISION SCOPING

Ensures appropriate risk domains are included in the assessment.

SCOPING IN-DEPTH CONTROL

TruSight is collaborating with key financial industry suppliers to increase efficiencies and raise standards to meet assessment requirements across the industry.

TruSight and Google LLC endeavor to create an assessment process that results in greater efficiency, higher quality, and broader distribution. Unlike other certifications and attestation reports, TruSight's best practices assessment methodology delivers these benefits through transparency forged through collaboration with Google LLC and large global institutions.

TruSight and Google LLC have collaborated on a robust assessment of Google LLC's core products and services. Both TruSight and Google LLC believe that making this assessment available industry-wide and having customers of Google LLC across the industry consume the TruSight assessment will create substantial benefits for all over time.

USING THE TRUSIGHT ASSESSMENT CREATES INDUSTRY-WIDE BENEFITS

Financial institutions receive consistent, high-quality risk assessments through TruSight's standardized, industry-backed control assessment methodology.

Third parties benefit from standardized assessment practices, consistent expectations and decreased time spent responding to bespoke questionnaires, requests and site visits.

The financial services industry benefits from a single set of best practices, elevated standards and reduced costs.
